YDM7220
Digital Door Lock

Combining high security with cutting-edge technology, the Yale 7220 digital door lock is a premium security solution for the modern lifestyle.

With the 7220 Digital Door Lock, coming home is effortless! Unlock your door conveniently using your fingerprint on the biometric reader, entering your PIN code on the lock's keypad, pressing the 'open' button in the Yale Home App, or activating the App's 'Auto-Unlock' feature for the ultimate convenience—your door will unlock automatically as you approach. You can also scan a proximity card or use a traditional mechanical key.

Upgrade your access control by managing and monitoring your lock from anywhere*. Receive instant notifications about who is coming and going, grant guest access, and check whether your door is open or closed—all from the palm of your hand.

Enjoy peace of mind, protected by a Yale Lock with more than 180 years of security expertise built in.
